WORKING PRINCIPLE OF NECK LASER THERAPEUTIC INSTRUMENT

The low-energy 650nm(5mW) laser can irradiate the circulating blood in the neck artery and the mucosal tissue in the nasal cavity so that the photoelectric biological effect will generate. Photon energy is absorbed by red blood cells and converted into internal energy, then activates different enzymes and decomposes redundant fat in the bloodstream. It increases the oxygen amount in the blood, boosts metabolism and enhances the process of lipid peroxidation to reduce cholesterol in the vessels.

④ Laser photon energy circulates through blood vessels throughout the body.

④ The atherosclerosis is dissolved and expelled from the body.
